CONTRACT MANUFACTURING

From initial design concept to finished product, Contech Medical's experienced engineers are here to help.

Our knowledgeable sales team and staff will define your project, identify criteria for success, and execute the best solution for your needs.

From conception to design to implementation- we've got you covered.

GUIDEWIRE DISPENSER COILS

Contech entered the medical device packaging industry in 1987 as a producer of dispenser coils and quickly changed the industry.

Our innovative solutions, large capacity, clean room assembly and close to 100% acceptance rate is what makes Contech different from the competition.

CUSTOM COMPONENTS

Whether you're looking for a custom medical component through our contract manufacturing services or an existing component, Contech is able to assist.

We regularly offer engineering support and insights on product designs that save money and increase the quality and reliability of the end product.
